

Are you ready for the NEXT normal?

When speakers, attendees, sponsors are on site AND online?

Congratulations on figuring out the whole virtual event thing. And now that it's time to be thinking about meeting in person again – how are you fixed for getting THAT done?

Some speakers will be on site, and some will be online. Same with attendees. Same with sponsors. But the show must be a seamless experience, no matter where people are. That means socially-distanced on-site audience, no video conferencing echo or feedback in the meeting room, flawless playback of pre-recorded content for both audiences, and the ability to see and hear everyone NO MATTER WHERE THEY ARE!

Performedia takes care of it ALL!

At Performedia, we were one of the best you could get for hybrid meeting coverage before we became one of the best you could get for strictly virtual events. And now we have a total solution for when those two modes need to be mixed.

We supply not only a fabulous virtual event platform and unexcelled media player and video quality, but we also provide all the on-site AV you will need, pre-recording of speakers - who come back for live Q&A, event marketing, best practices guidelines, and so much more!

Let us help you plan for the next normal. We'll make you and your attendees, speakers, and sponsors very happy.
